Dear Students:

This edition of The Ram is your personal time capsule for the 1990-91 academic year at Winston-Salem State University. It captures those special moments which will leave indelible impressions in your mind and heart. May all of your memories of Winston-Salem State University be fond ones, and may you consider your undergraduate days as some of the best of your life.

Whether you are completing your freshman year or graduating, I issue a challenge to you to fulfill your personal potential and the promise of this institution "Enter to Learn, Depart to Serve."

With warmest personal regards,

Cleon F. Thompson, Jr.
Chancellor

A portrait of Barry Johnson, a young Black man with short hair and a mustache, wearing round glasses, a dark suit, white shirt, and dark tie. He is looking slightly to the left of the camera. The background is a blurred brick building.

1990-1991 SGA President Barry Johnson

Fellow Rams,

Serving as Student Government President has been a very worthwhile experience to me. I have learned a great deal about myself and I have been allowed to broaden my perspectives by gaining a magnitude of providence.

I came in believing the vicissitude needed was effective leadership. My cabinet and I worked hard in the summer months trying to build a relationship with administration that would be responsive to the students needs. We have made it a point to be heard on any and all issues that were pertinent to the student body.

This Student Government believed in leadership for the masses and participatory government. There was a consensus that no matter what individuals wanted, our perspective had to be based on the priority of the overall student body.

As well we have placed a major emphasis on students' social and academic responsibility. The avenue to progress must be reciprocal from students and administration. We as students can not complain about administration not being responsive to our needs, unless we are responsible for ourselves first.

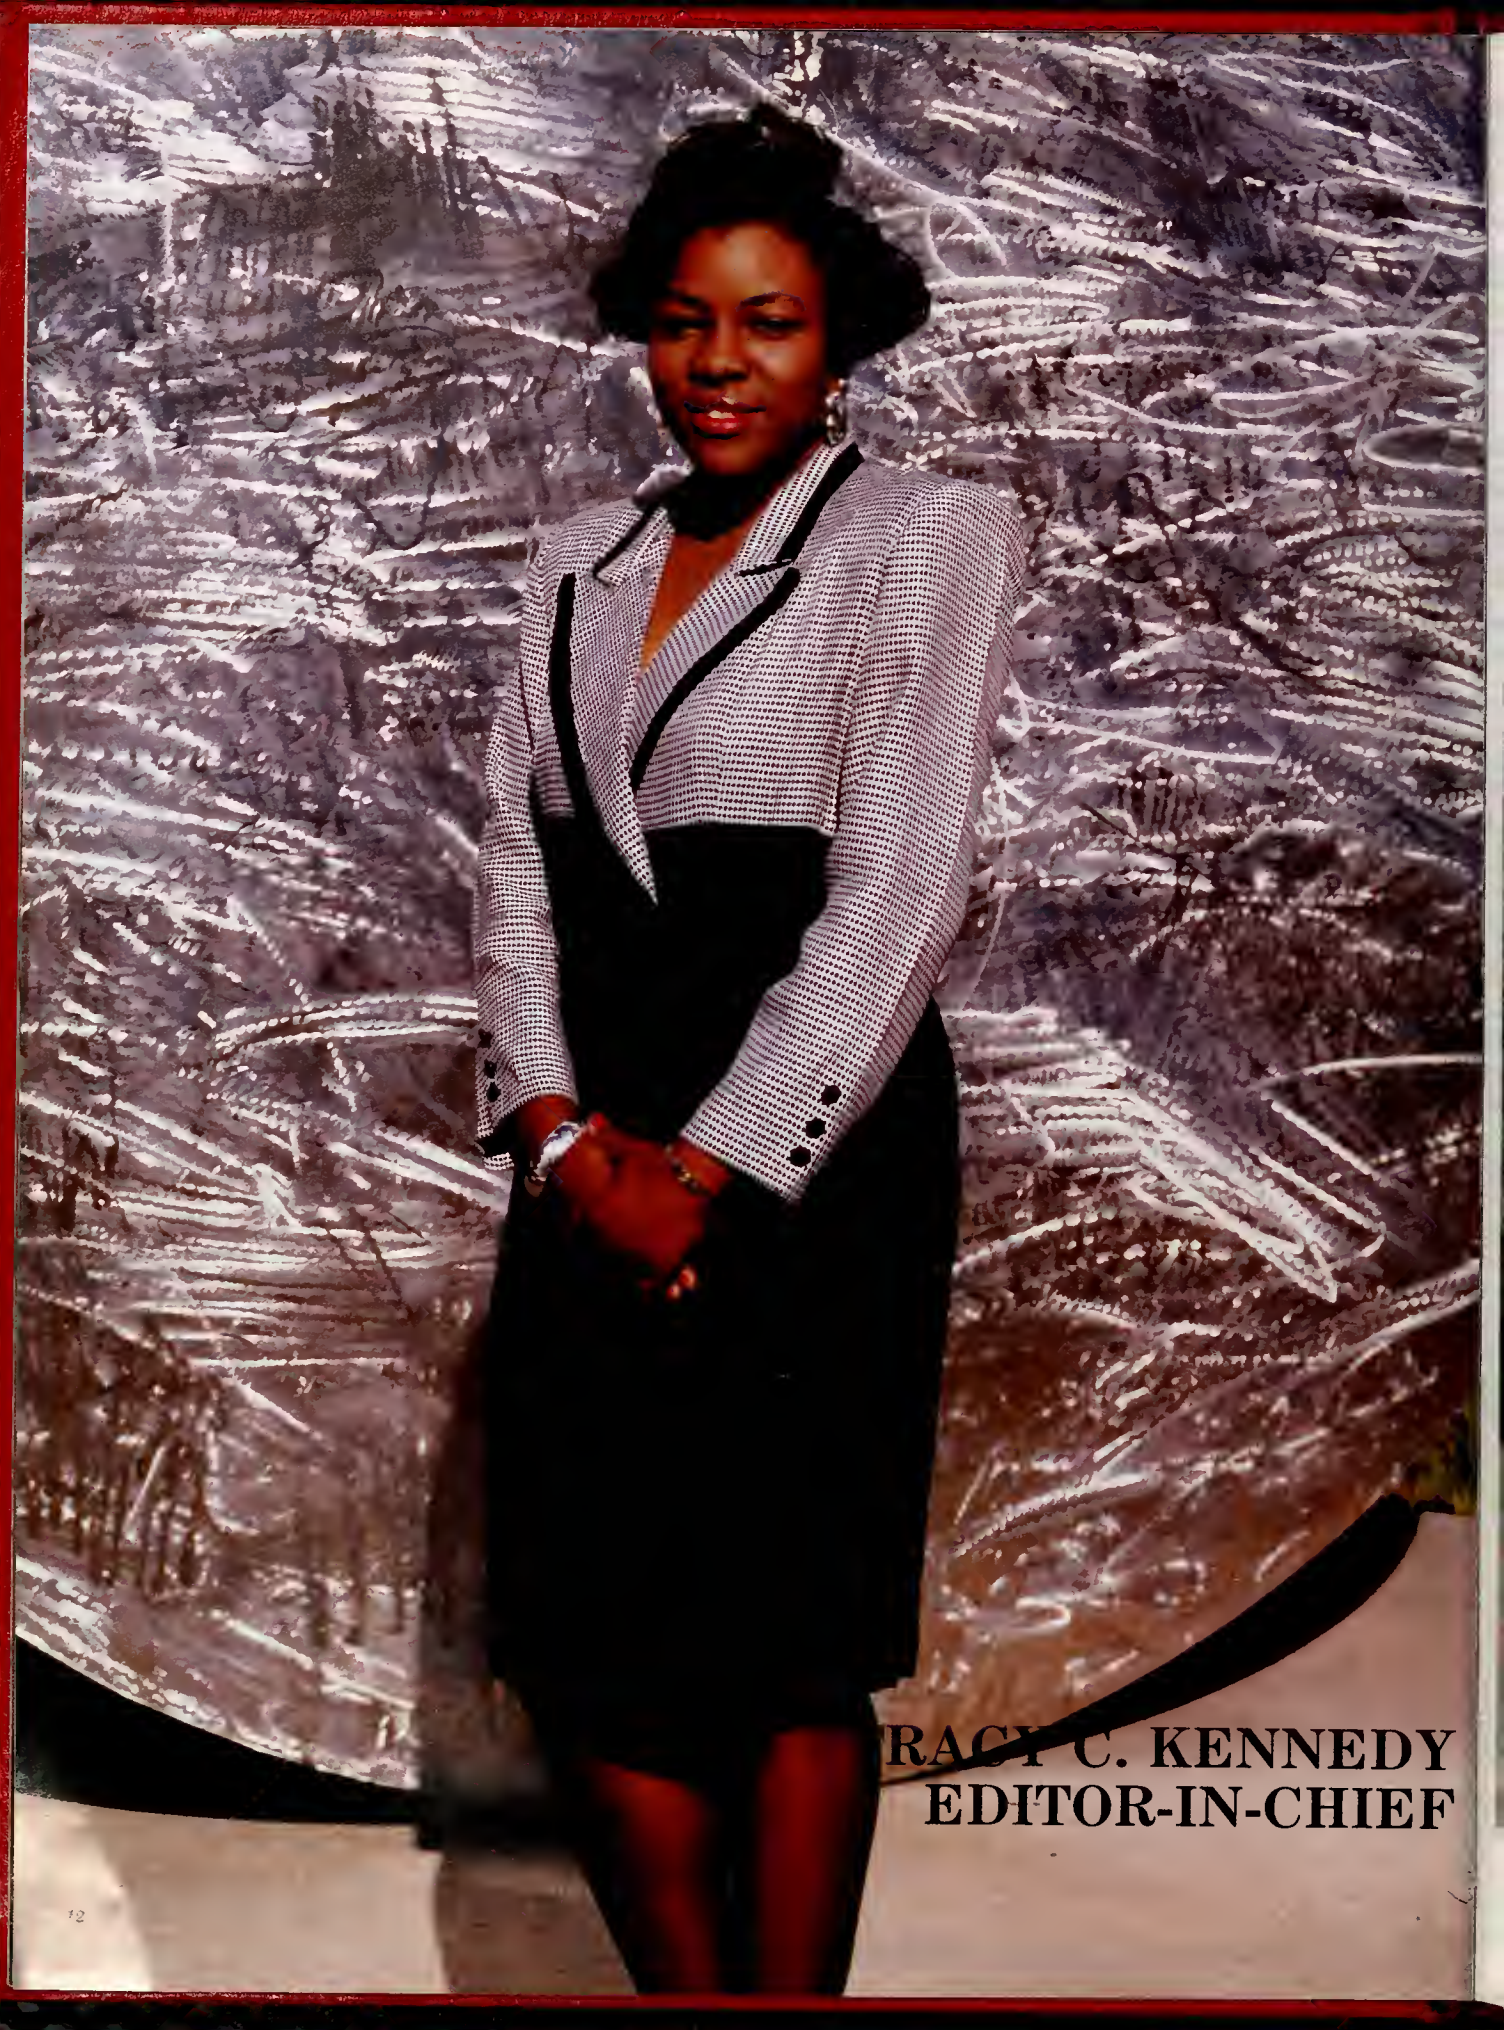

I believe that we have had a good year because you, the student body, made it good. The Student Government has only been as productive as you allowed it to be. Therefore you should be commended for your accolades that contributed to any and all progression made this year. Strive on into the nineties and beyond Rams, with the pride and tenacity which all of you possess. Let's continue to grow together, onward and upward into the light, here at WSSU and beyond.

Student Government Association*

THE DIGGS GALLERY

In 1988 Chancellor Cleon F. Thompson, Jr. gave the go ahead for planning a real gallery for Winston-Salem State University. With the help of Gordon Hanes, the Diggs Memorial Fund and the University the plan became a reality in the fall of 1990. We have two adjacent galleries, encompassing some 6,700 square feet of exhibition space, located on the ground floor of the O'Kelly Library addition.

The WSSU Board of Trustees authorized the naming of the gallery for James Thackeray Diggs in the spring of 1989. Mr. Diggs was better known as "T" Diggs. He was a philosopher, educator, artist and craftsman. He is remembered best as an educator, and artist who always stressed the importance of pure art. Mr. Diggs believed, "Art is a means of expressing, creating, doing your own thing and being liberated." This was his philosophy for 45 years, so much so that he practiced what he preached. Mr. Diggs' influence was often seen outside the classroom. He designed many of the buildings built during his tenure at WSSU.

Mitzie Showmake a professor in the Art Department is the gallery's first curator and has put in many grueling hours to assure the gallery's success.

BLACK HISTORY POSTERS

Dear Mom,

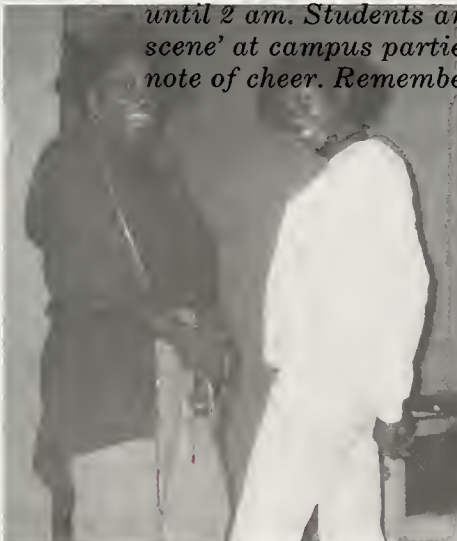

How are you doing knowing that your lovable baby is away at college. I know that you miss me but not as much as I miss you. Although I have only been at WSSU for a semester, I have learned to appreciate the many pleasures of home.

You were right when you said being adult is not always easy.

You do not have to worry about my eating three meals a day because I visit the cafe on a regular basis. The cafe offers many services that you just can't get anywhere. Cooking with soul and style, the gourmet dishes include hot wheaties for breakfast; authentic sub sandwiches for lunch; and the famous fried lasagna. On a popular day you can sample the Hibachi style cooking right at your table, compliments of your classmates. And, if you are more lucky, you can enjoy the mystery meat surprise and the cottage cheese cream pie for the dessert. I can not leave out the most important benefit that I receive, the convenient carry out service; service my microwave oven with a microwave dinner.

I am very proud to tell you that all of my clothes are now P-U-R-P-L-E. Remember that purple sweater that I never wore, well I sported it last week and washed it . . . with all of my clothes. I should have listened to you and separated the light clothes from the dark clothes. I can look fabulous all day with the Perfect Purple Glow.

You will be glad to know that I study everyday except for Fridays. I take full advantage of group sessions then that are offered only on weekends from 10 pm until 2 am. Students are able to share a special bond of being 'Fresh on the scene' at campus parties . . . I mean sessions. Well anyhow it is time to end this note of cheer. Remember I miss you.

*Dear Fellow Classmates,
As a sophomore, I would like to share some rules that I have established to survive campus life:*

- (1) Bring all necessities from home, such as, door knobs for broken doors and dresser for broken drawers.*
- (2) Don't forget the three essential sprays:

 - a) Lysol (for the bathroom)*
 - b) Right Guard (need I say more)*
 - c) Raid (pests can be a mess)
- (3) When hearing the toilet flush while showering, jump to the left or right to avoid the hot water!*

And, since the dorms have dependable and efficient heating and cooling systems, you have the option of giving it a couple of whacks or praying that it will automatically come on by the middle of the night. You can create your own comfort maker air conditioner by raising a window with the World Lit II book you never study with. Also, remember to appreciate the Sealy Deluxe Mattress that you sleep on every night, for it won't get any better than that.

*Thank you
Your Friend, James*

P.S. To all the upperclassmen, "Now I have some hours."

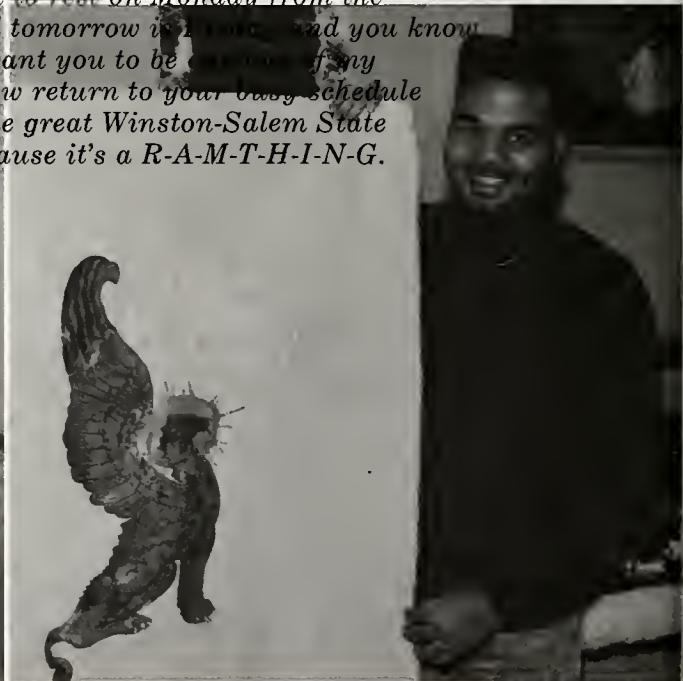

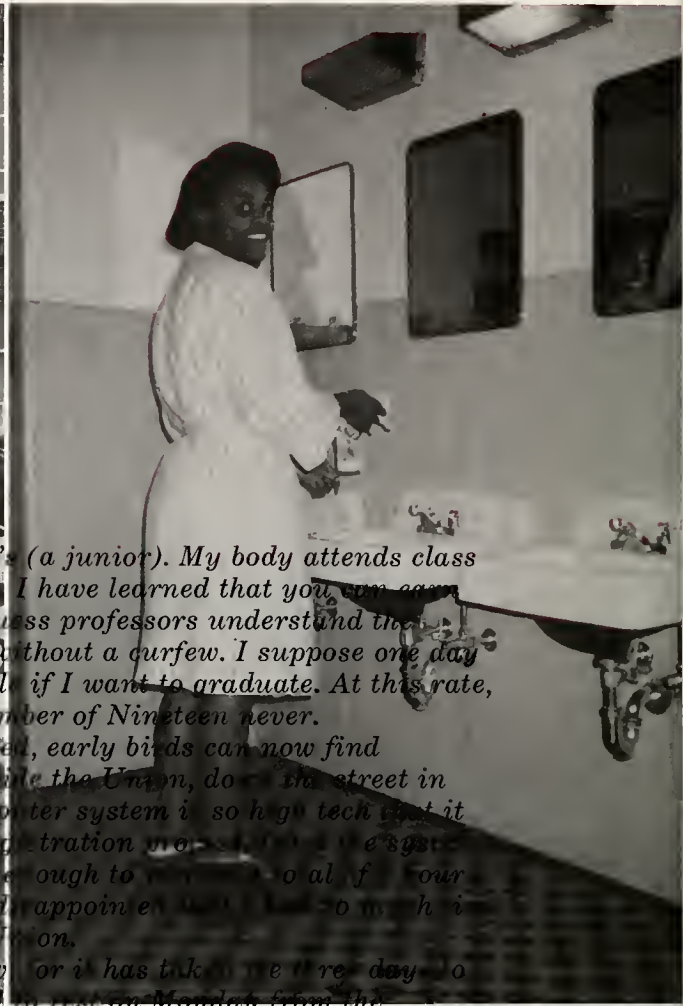

Dear Alumn,

I am your colleg student of the 90's (a junior). My body attends class although my mind is somewhere else. I have learned that you can earn credit for sleeping through class. I guess professors understand the pressures of being away from home without a curfew. I suppose one day when I will learn how to be responsible if I want to graduate. At this rate, I probably not graduate until Juvenver of Nineteen never.

The registration lines have improved, early birds can now find themselves at the end of the line outside the Union, down the street in front of Carolina Hall. The new computer system is so high tech that it takes frequent recesses during the registration process. If the system decides to wake up you will be lucky enough to get 10 of your 18 although you requested 18. I was so disappointed that I had to go to spend socializing in the Student Union.

Well, I guess I'll end this letter now, for it has taken me three days to write it. I started on Tuesday (I had to rest on Monday from the weekend) and now it's Thursday and tomorrow is Friday, and you know what that means. Besides, I do not want you to be envious of my magnificent campus life. You can now return to your busy schedule knowing that you are a product of the great Winston-Salem State University and smile to yourself because it's a R-A-M-T-H-I-N-G.

CLASS HISTORY

Imagine being transported in a time capsule to the beautiful campus of Winston-Salem State University on a gorgeous day in the summer of 1987 — August 15, to be precise. Envision the faces of 431 fresh students eager and ready to embark on life in a totally new world, the world of college life — a world brimful of challenges as well as opportunities. It is also a world that, for most of them, would demand several adjustments — adjustments to roommates and dormitory life and the campus environment and classes and instructors and food in the cafeteria and . . . and . . . The very atmosphere seems charged with excitement and the energy of their hopes and dreams and visions. This was the culmination of an orientation program which began in the summer of 1987. It was the start of Winston-Salem State University's Class of 1991.

Our first major task was to elect class officers. After many days of campaigning, Wendy Bridges and Octavius Robinson were elected president and vice-president respectively of the Freshman Class; Lisa Jones was elected secretary, Dreama Jackson parliamentarian, Coretta Davis class representative, and the lovely Frostina Spruell Miss Freshman.

Among the highlights of the year were: a mock wedding which we presented during Homecoming week; the great victory of our football team in the CIAA conference championship, thanks to the outstanding performance of our very own freshman quarterback Connell Maynor; and a visit from Jessie Jackson in one of his presidential campaign stops.

We ended the year by electing Octavius Robinson as Sophomore Class President and Tonja Adams as Miss Sophomore.

The 1988-89 school year began not only with the savor of being sophomores, but also with anticipation of the tests and challenges with which we would have to cope. Among the activities we sponsored were fund raisers which included a candy gram sale, and a doughnut sale, a Halloween costume party, a fashion show and a spring dance; and, with our quarterback, the achievement of our football team in winning the CIAA crown. The class ordered sweatshirts featuring our class motto and class colors (green and gold).

We ended the school year with electing Glynis Whitted, Junior Class President, and Kiva Robinson Miss Junior.

The highlights of our Junior year were: a fashion show competition between classes, a Christmas party for all class officers and SGA cabinet members, and a Junior Class version of The Dating Game that drew a SRO crowd and was an overwhelming success. We ended the year by electing James Flowers, Senior Class President and Anissa Vila, Miss Senior.

The time we had long awaited finally arrived on August 20, 1990. We became Seniors. The focus of our activities in our senior year has been preparation for career opportunities and graduate school through programs provided by the University's Office of Career Services. Among our other activities were a candy gram sale and a toga party which we sponsored during Homecoming week; we also crowned our very own Carla Bridges, Miss WSSU 1990-1991. Our major activity before the end of the school year would be a trip to the Bahamas in the Spring.

The Class of 1991 will say farewell to WSSU on May 1, 1991 in the Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum. We will say farewell but not without fond memories of WSSU and heaps of appreciation for all that she has done for us and for the innumerable ways in which she has helped us grow and mature.

THE GROUND WAR Day By Day

Border disputes of changes
The Ibn Saud clan united most of Arabia in the 1620s. Syria and Lebanon became independent after World War II. British protectorates, including Kuwait, gained their independence after 1960. Over Arab objections, Britain split Palestine into Israel and the West Bank. A military coup overthrew the Iraqi monarchy in 1958. Some border disputes in the region have been settled peacefully, but since the birth of Israel more have led to war.

STARTING OUT: Pollen was widespread as the deadline for the demilitarization of Kuwait loomed. A Marine took the photo and then sent it to a mother as she talked to speakers at a downtown gathering.

WAR IN THE GULF

Winston Soldiers Quoted on Battlefield
DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia — As the extent of the Iraqi rout became clear yesterday, a couple of soldiers from Winston-Salem expressed their support, in interviews with wire services, for President Bush's decision to seek the capitulation of Saddam Hussein.
"Someone has to pay for all this, and it's him," said Sgt. Leonard Williams, 20, an equipment operator who was advancing with the 82nd Airborne Division through southern Iraq.
"We have to destroy these guys or we'll be back in the near future to finish the job," Williams said.
Staff Sgt. Franklin Lott, 32, who was a member of the allied tank forces battling the Republican Guard in the Iraqi desert, was just as outspoken.
"We're going to keep pushing until we've eliminated this man's cotton-pickin' ability to make war," Lott said.

- LOCAL QUOTES
- "I'm just torn apart. I'm very worried, and I'm upset."
— Det. Holt, whose son, Richard S. Holt, is aboard the destroyer USS William D. Pratt.
 - "Just bring my brother home."
— Carrie Stamford, a junior at Salem College whose brother is an artilleryman in Saudi Arabia.
 - "I support the troops, but the people didn't want this — governments wanted this."
— Vernadine Parker, of Highland Baptist Church.
 - "I know it's not just oil, but I'm not sure exactly what it is."
— Christopher Ross, a 19-year-old who would be eligible for the draft if it is reinstated.
 - "We know, Lord, that this could just be the drum roll for the rapture."
— The Rev. Gary Sammons, an Army reserve chaplain, at Salem Baptist Church.
 - "I don't know if they did the right thing. I guess we'll find out."
— Jerry Spahnauer, a 30-year-old machinist from Elgin.
 - "If (Saddam) was playing a bluff, he realizes that the cards have been put down."
— Chris May, Blowing Rock's town manager and a reservist in the Coast Guard.
 - "And they (families) need the support, as much support as possible."
— Drew Dalgleish, a veteran of the Vietnam War and psychologist.
 - "I lost a brother in Vietnam. I know that there are a lot of people sitting on the edge of their seats."
— John Merschel, a Vietnam veteran.
 - "He was tired of sitting around, just waiting for something to happen."
— Lilian Kay Lynch of WakeForest, speaking of her son Bobby, a sergeant in the Marines.
 - "I just hope they get it over with now that we've started it and lose as few as possible."
— Jeff Oler, whose son, Keith Davis, is with Army counter-intelligence in the desert.

Here is a review of the Persian Gulf crisis as it unfolded in the words of statesmen, soldiers and ordinary people.

□ "We have no opinion on the Arab-Arab conflicts, like your border disagreement with Kuwait."
— Reported remark of U.S. Ambassador April Glasco to Iraqi President Saddam Hussein in late July.

□ "The Iraqis have occupied all of Kuwait!"
— A Kuwaiti official shouting in a telephone interview Aug. 2, after the invasion.

□ "Iraq is pursuing no goal or objective and wishes only cordial relations with Kuwait. Furthermore, it is the Kuwaitis themselves who will determine their own future, and Iraqi forces will withdraw as soon as order has been restored."
— Iraqi U.N. diplomat Sabah Talfat Kadrat, Aug. 2.

□ "A line has been drawn in the sand."
— President Bush on sending U.S. forces to defend Saudi Arabia from possible Iraqi invasion, Aug. 5.

□ "Burn the soil under the feet of the aggressors and invaders... Hit their interests wherever they are, rescue holy Mecca and rescue the grave of the prophet."
— Iraqi President Saddam Hussein, Aug. 10, urging Muslims to unite in opposition to U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia.

□ "I just put it to you. What does it look like? What does it sound like?"
— This reminds me of the 1930s, and we have learned from history."
— Prince Bandar bin Sultan, Saudi Arabia's ambassador to the United States, Aug. 10.

□ "Let no one doubt. We will not rule out a possible use of force if Iraq continues to occupy Kuwait."
— Secretary of State James A. Baker III, Oct. 30.

□ "If war is imposed upon us by the United States, this will be our destiny. Our people will not kneel, we will rise to this responsibility."
— Abdul Amir al-Anbar, Iraq's ambassador to Washington, Nov. 29.

□ "I did not close the embassy, but I vacated it."
— "The flag flies."
— Nathaniel Howell, the U.S. ambassador to Kuwait, after leaving the Iraq-occupied nation, Dec. 14.

□ "No, I'm not ready to do the job."
— Lt. Gen. Calvin A.H. Waller, the deputy commander of Operation Desert Shield, saying Dec. 20 that U.S. troops would not be fully prepared for combat by the Jan. 15 deadline.

□ "We are assured they will be ready to do whatever they are called upon to do."
— Martin Pritzker, the White House press secretary, responding to Waller's statement, Dec. 20.

□ "No negotiations, no compromise, no attempts at face-saving and no rewards for aggression. What there will be if Iraq accepts this offer is simply and importantly an opportunity to resolve this crisis peacefully."
— President Bush, Jan. 3.

□ "Nobody wants a war. They're showing our servicemen and women on television, waving and laughing and saying 'Hi, Mom, Hi, Dad,' and in two weeks they could be coming home in body bags."
— "It's crazy."
— Sunny Weilbinger, a Colorado waitress, Jan. 5.

□ "This was a total stiff arm, a total rebuff."
— President Bush on the apparent failure of the Baker-Aziz talks in Geneva, Jan. 9.

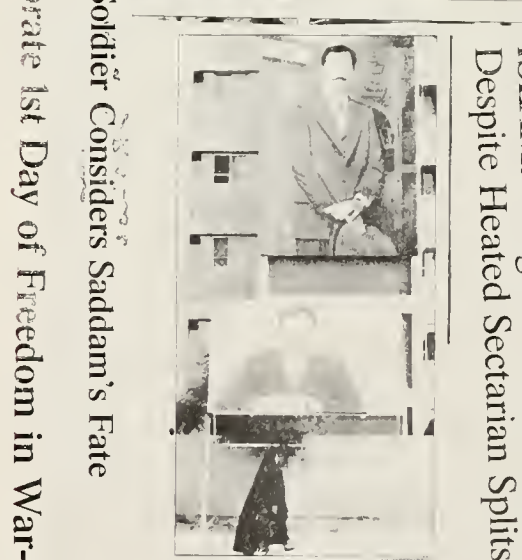

□ "Should the Americans become embroiled, we will make them swim in their own blood. God willing."
— Saddam, rejecting U.S. demands, Jan. 9.

□ "I think we're going to war."
— U.S. Army Sgt. 1st Class Earl Goodette in Saudi Arabia, after hearing of the failure of the Geneva talks, Jan. 9.

□ "We can take them on anytime."
— An Iraqi soldier, Jan. 9, on guard on the Kuwaiti coast.

Greetings to the Chancellor, Administration, Faculty and Students.

Thank you for your support and cooperation during the 1990-1991 academic year.

This yearbook staff has put in hard work and long hours to bring to you a descriptive, as well as picturesque view of the many different aspects of the Ram Family. We have tried to convey, within these pages, the experiences here at WSSU, that you will treasure for a lifetime.

Special thanks is extended to the following persons for their support and dedication: Veleska Mathes, SHEILA NESBIT, KEITH HEGGINS, Jennifer Chapman, Helena Thomas, Mrs. Elaine Browne, Mr. Kenneth Kimber, Mrs. Evelyn Gullick, Mrs. Johnnie Hardy and Mrs. Sara Hairston.

Special recognition goes to Kim Campbell (photography), Davida Jones (photography), and to my advisors, Mr. Beaufort Bailey and Ms. Cassandra Douglas.

I am very proud to have served as your Editor -In-Chief.

*Sincerely,
Tracy Kennedy.*
